Playing around with HTML and CSS

Before we write our own web pages we can play around with any page on the web. Follow along with the challenges below. If you think you might forget what the steps were, you can write them down in the space provided.

To start this activity you'll need to open up the wikipedia page for your favourite animal. I used this one en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Elephant
Right click on the page and select the "inspect" option.
(It might also be called "inspect element")

How can I ...

Change the title of the article?

Make the text bigger?

Italicize the text? (Make it slanted like this)

Change an image?

Change the page title? (Where it appears at the top of the browser window)
